

BMK GROUP'S GLOBAL EXPANSION TO AFRICA AND THE MIDDLE EAST: A SIGNIFICANT GROWTH MILESTONE.

As a leading infrastructure development company based in South Africa, BMK is poised now to break into the international built environment arena with the unveiling of a bold African and Middle Eastern expansion strategy, a move which marks a significant milestone in our organisation's growth trajectory.

We are a prominent provider of sustainable infrastructure solutions across South Africa and are intent on appreciably extending our business reach, capitalising on the emergent infrastructure development opportunities across the Continent and the Middle East.

We recognise that Governments and development finance institutions are making substantial investments in the infrastructure sector in both Africa and the Middle East. We have specifically positioned ourselves to be able to deliver solutions to meet Africa and the Middle East's infrastructural challenges. Our intent is simple; we aim to become a substantial player in the international infrastructure arena, taking advantage of such business opportunities in order to generate new revenue streams, whilst contributing meaningfully towards the further growth and development of both regions.

It is clear that both Africa and the Middle East are experiencing population booms and increased levels of urbanisation, with the attendant need for increased and improved infrastructure.

Our Group is dedicated to shaping tomorrow's built environment landscape. We focus on innovation, collaboration and sustainability, delivering cost-effective and environmentally-friendly engineering, infrastructural and technological solutions. Ours is a company with a proven South African track-record of excellence.

Moving into Africa and the Middle East marks the beginning of our Group's five-year global strategy.

This tactical decision aligns with our vision of growing to become a global leader in sustainable infrastructure solutions. By extending our operational teams to these regions, we aim to bring our innovative technology, expertise and commitment to excellence to new markets, while forging lasting partnerships with local communities and stakeholders. We are ideally positioned to meet the infrastructural needs of diverse communities across Africa and the Middle East and are poised now to play a pivotal role in driving positive change and creating a lasting impact in communities well beyond South Africa's borders.

Africa Beckons — we hear you

As a company of African origin, we have a deep emotional connection with and respect for the people of Africa — in venturing into Africa, we can better relate to the people of this continent, providing a perfect community-business fit. The Group's positioning for our offering across the continent is 'Africa Beckons... We Hear You.' We are geared to respond to Africans' needs with our range of skills and technological advances.

Middle East — we've arrived

The strategy behind extending our Group's footprint into the Middle East is one of transformation to fit the prosperity the region offers. Our aim is to conform with the affluence and futuristic attributes of the Middle East, portraying the seriousness of the BMK Group by completely transforming ourselves so as to speak the business language of the Emirates, thus demonstrating the respect we have for those with whom we do business, whilst showcasing our versatility in adapting to the needs of this target market.

BMK — Leading Progress & Innovation

We are ready to bring our expertise and passion for transformative infrastructure solutions to these new markets, forging connections and leaving a lasting impact wherever we go. We are leaders in our industry, driving innovation and shaping the future of global infrastructure.
